Vision and Mission Statements

Vision

To be a World Class Regulatory Body for the Promotion of Technical and Vocational Education and Training (TVET) in Nigeria

Mission

To Promote the Production of Skilled Technical and Professional Manpower for the Development and Sustenance of the National Economy

Preface

The National Board for Technical Education is the educational supervisory body that oversee the operations and development of technical and vocational education training (TVET) institutions, falling outside the universities. These institutions comprise the Polytechnics and Colleges of Technology, the Monotechnics (which is classified into Colleges of Agriculture and Related Disciplines, Colleges of Health Sciences and Specialised Institutions), Innovation Enterprise Institutions (IEIs), Vocational Enterprise Institutions (VEIs) and Technical Colleges.

One of its principal mandate is to provide educational statistical data and information feedback on these institutions, so as to enhance their management, policy formulation, planning and other developmental purposes. In view of this, the Board regularly collect, collate, process, analyze, publish and disseminate the baseline statistical data of these institutions annually. This has culminated in the publication of digest of statistics of these institutions for every academic session, leading to production of this edition of the Digest of Statistics of Technical Vocational Education and Training (TVET) Institutions in Nigeria, 2018/19, Volume 9.

Given the indispensability of statistical data in the effective management, planning and supervision of these institutions, this digest provides important baseline statistical information on the status of TVET education in Nigeria for the year specified. It is also expected that it will provide healthy quantitative tool for the evaluation, management, planning, promotion, and development of technical and skills base learning for the proprietors, promoters, and other development minded stakeholders in the TVET sector.

Structurally, the Digest is divided into five chapters with a chapter dedicated to each category of TVET institution under NBTE's supervision. In essence, the chapters contain baseline statistics of the Polytechnics and Colleges of Technology, Monotechnics (treated by it classification), Innovation Enterprise Institutions, Vocational Enterprise Institutions and Technical Colleges. Their statistics are shown in detail and summaries with some key baseline educational indicators extracted and graphically presented for illustration.

It is believed that this digest will be found useful by the numerous end users including, the government and private proprietors; educational policy formulators, planners and managers; local and international development partners and agencies; researchers and educationist; parents and their wards and other stakeholders.

On behalf of the National Board for Technical Education, I extend my appreciation to the Rectors, Provosts, Principals, Registrars, Bursars and other staff of the institutions that have contributed to the realization of this publication. Importantly too, commendation goes to the Academic Planning, Research, Statistics & ICT Department, the Director and the officers of the Research and Statistics Division who took up the production of this publication, not forgetting all other staff of the Board who are partners in this project.

CHAPTER ONE

General Background

National Board for Technical Education (NBTE) Supervised Technical Vocational Education and Training Institutions

The TVET institutions under the purview of NBTE comprises Polytechnics, Monotechnics, Innovation Enterprise Institutions referred to as IEs, Vocational Enterprise Institutions referred to as VEs and Technical College. The following is the digest of statistical data of these institutions for the 2018/19 academic year. The statistical digest of each of the TVET institution listed above are presented in separate chapters in much the same order, for easy location and reading.

Coverage of the Institutions' Digest

The institutions listed under each of the TVET institution types in this Digest have been officially recognized by NBTE to operate. For further detail, please refer to the list of eligible institutions above. Also, the full and part-time programmes and trades covered are those that have been standardized by NBTE, and have been granted interim or full accreditation. Therefore, any other programme offered by the institution or any other institutions' own certification are exempted for the purpose of this publication.

The statistical data presented across these TVET institutions comprise of students enrolment and out-turn, and teaching and non-teaching staff distribution, for the 2018/19 academic session.

Presentation and Organisation

Each chapter begins with a brief introduction of the TVET institutions type. Their statistical data are then presented in tables and are accompanied by some statistical extracts in charts with brief comments. The layout of the presentation comes in the following order; detail statistics of institutions enrolments and their summaries, detail statistics of institutions out-turn and their summaries, detail statistics of teaching staff distribution and their summaries and detail statistics of non-teaching staff distribution and their summaries.

This digest also form the base data for input into the Nigerian Education Management Information System (NEMIS) from National Board for Technical Education (NBTE) supervised institutions.

Statistical Digest of Polytechnics and Colleges of Science and Technology

1.0 Introduction

Polytechnic is used here generically, to refer to non-university tertiary technical education training institution comprising Polytechnics, Colleges of Science and Technology and Institute of Science and Technology, offering a wide variety of technological, Science and business oriented educational training leading to the award of ND, HND and Post-HND in Nigeria. The curriculum is designed to expose students to high level classroom theories, workshop practicals and industrial experiences. The industrial experience is undertaken in two phases; the first, popularly referred to as SIWES, takes place after ND1 and lasts for four (4) months. The second is undertaken after ND2 and it lasts for twelve months (1 year). By this, industrial training duration for polytechnics and colleges of technology programme is for one and half years.

The study is structured on two tiers system. On completion of the first tier, which consist of the first two (2) levels of one (1) year of study each (referred to as ND1 and ND2), graduands are awarded National Diploma (ND) certificate. On completion of the second tier which is similarly made up of two (2) levels of one year of study each (HND1 and HND2), graduands are awarded Higher National Diploma (HND). However, it is before enrolling for HND programme that prospective candidate must undertake the one-year industrial attachment referred to as IT, in their field of specialization in addition to holding a ND certificate.

Apart from above, some polytechnics offer Preliminary National Diploma (Pre-ND), and Post-Higher National Diploma (Post-HND). The former is an introductory class designed to prepare prospective candidates for JAMB examination which is the basis for admission into ND programmes. The later is designed to make holders obtain professional registration in their fields of study.

The two tiers are however terminal in that holder of any of the two certificates have recognized job entry point. By this, holders of ND may not need to obtain HND before going into the formal labour market. In technical terms, ND holders are referred to as Technicians and HND holders, Technologists. Polytechnic HND certificate is equivalent to a first degree (B.Sc. or B.A).

Extracts of Enrolment Statistics in Polytechnics and Colleges of Technology: 2018/19

Figure 1.1: Proportion of Male and Female Enrolled in the Polytechnics and Colleges of Technology for 2018/19 Academic Year

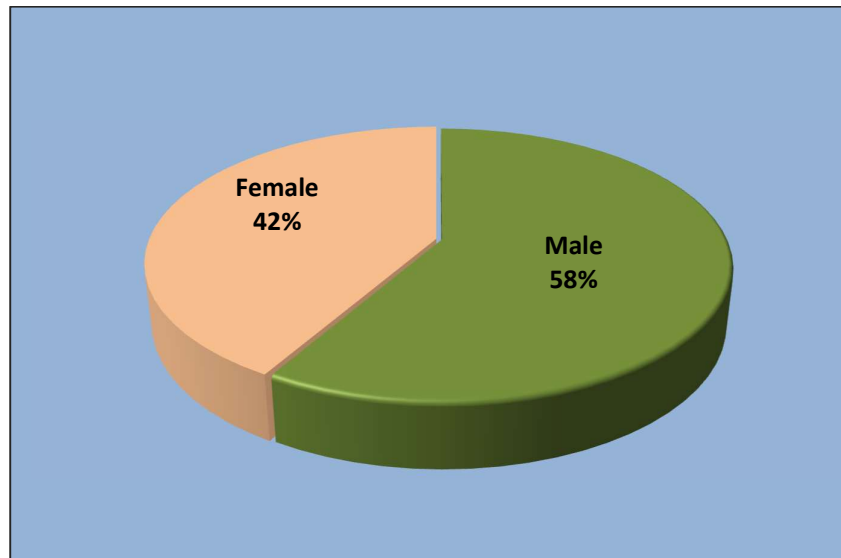

Fig. 1.1 shows not so much difference in enrolment proportion between the two gender in the polytechnics and colleges of technology, as they enrolled two (2) female for every three (3) male, in the academic year.

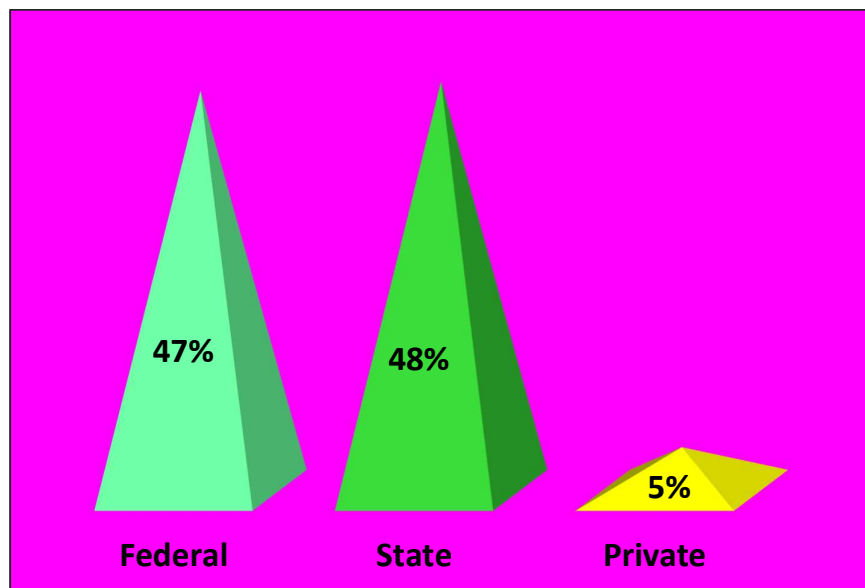

Fig. 1.2 reveal that federal and state polytechnics account for virtually all the enrolments in the polytechnics and colleges of technology, standing at ninety-five (95) percent, while the private ones combined, contribute a meagre five (5) percent.

Figure 1.3: Relative Proportion of Enrolment by Level of Study in the Polytechnics and Colleges of Technology for 2018/19 Academic Year

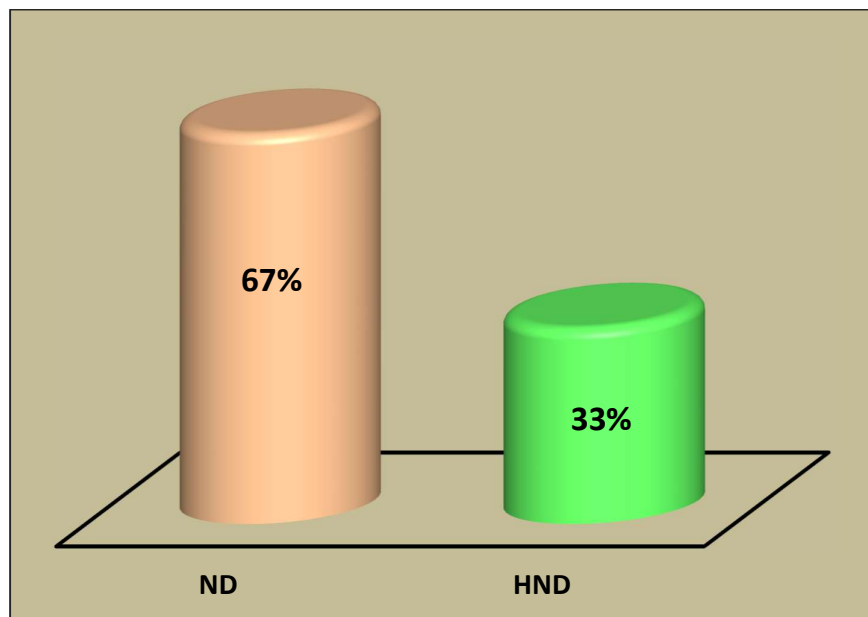

Fig 1.3 above shows that more than half (67%) of the polytechnics and colleges of technology's enrolment occur at ND level of study, with HND accounting for the rest.

Figure 1.4: Relative Proportion of Science & Technology to Non-Science & Technology Based Programmes in Polytechnic and Colleges of Technology Enrolment for 2018/19 Academic Year

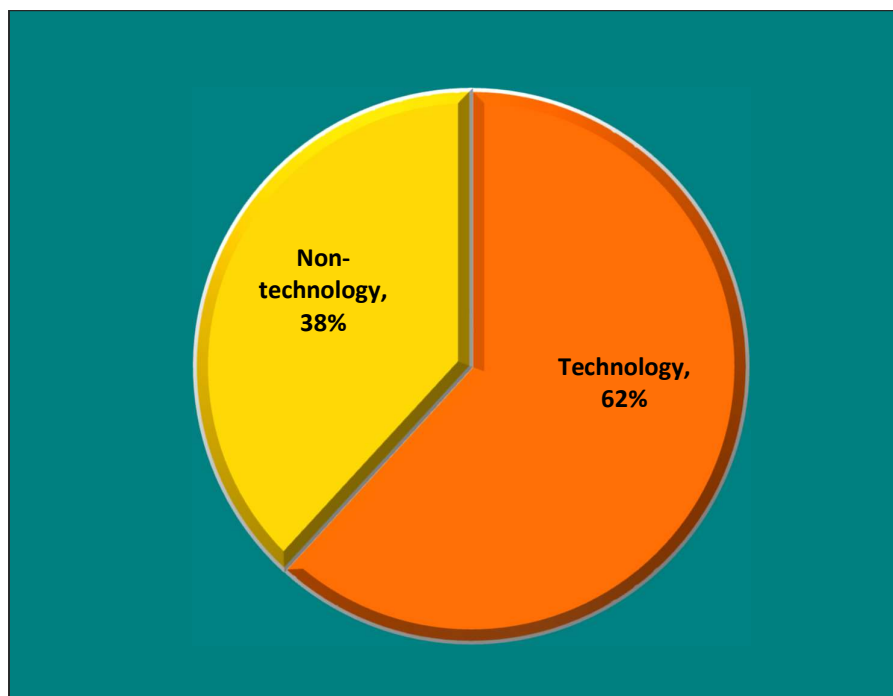

Fig. 1.4 show that enrolment into science and technology based programmes in the polytechnics stand at approximately 60:40 ratio compare to the prescribed 70:30.

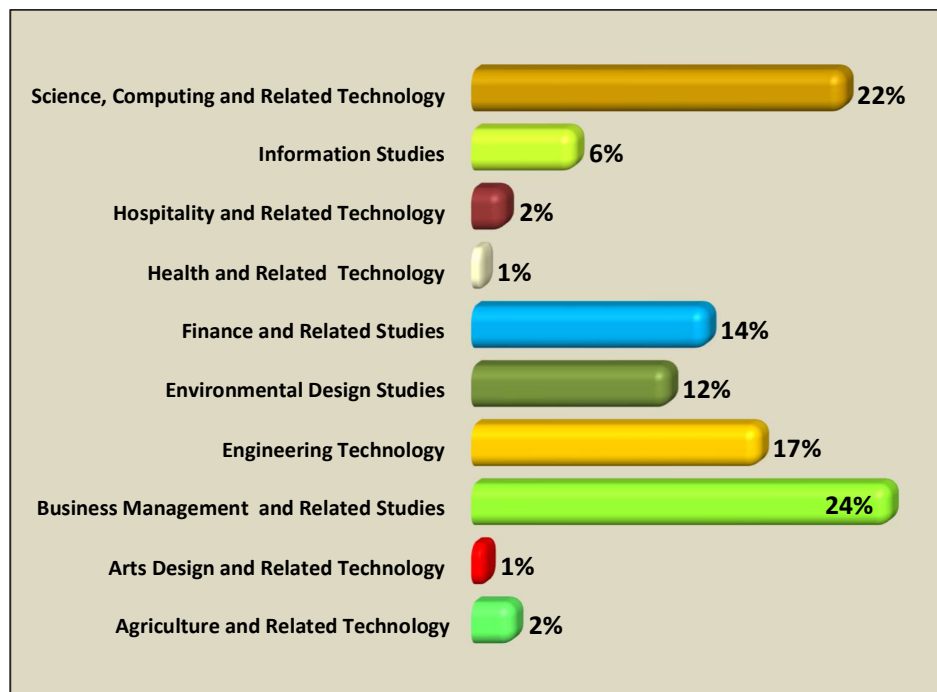

Fig. 1.5 represents polytechnic enrolment by programme categories. It reveals that, among others, enrolment into business management and related technology and science, computing and relate technology categories account for the two highest enrolment into single prigramme category, standing at twenty-four (24) and twenty-two (22) percent respectively. Engineering technology has the next highest at seventeen (17) percent, with arts and design and health and related programmes contribute the lowest at one (1) percent each.

Extracts of Out-turn Statistics in Polytechnics and Colleges of Technology: 2018/19

Figure 1.6: Proportion of Male and Female in the Out-turn of Polytechnics and Colleges of Technology for 2018/19 Academic Year

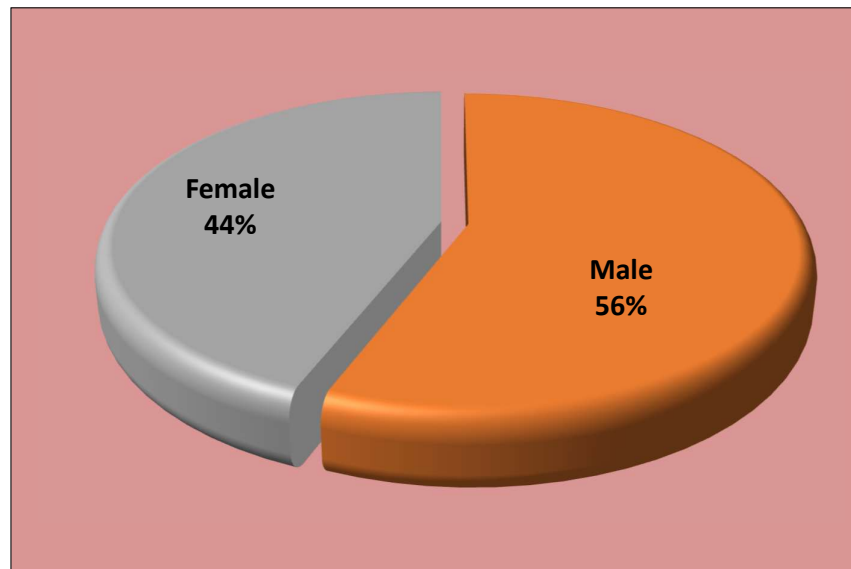

Fig. 1.6 show that the proportion of female turned out is two (2) for every five (5) diplomats graduated from the polytechnics and colleges of technology for the academic year.

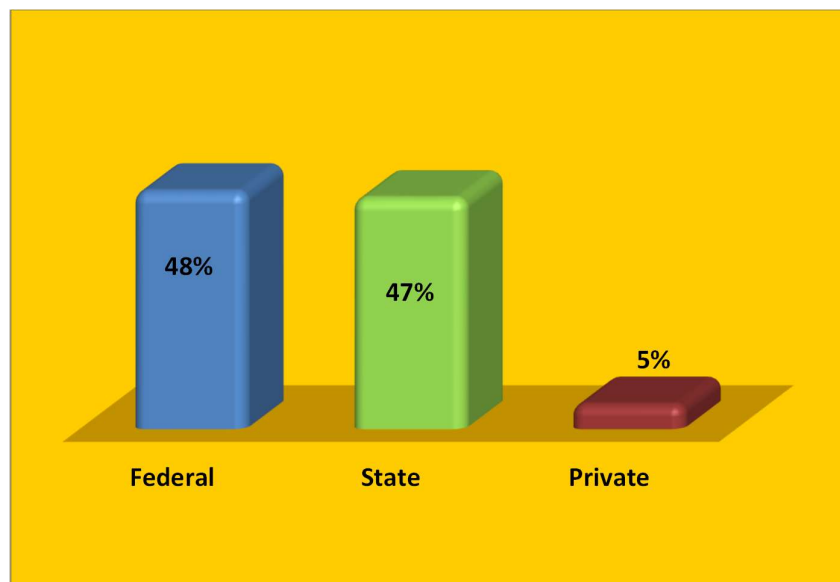

Fig. 1.7 above shows that the proportion of graduate turned out from the federal and state polytechnics are essentially equal standing at forty-eight (48) and forty-seven (47) percent respectively. Private polytechnic contribute just five (5) percent to the out-turn of the academic year.

Figure 1. 7: Proportion of Out-turn by Levels of Study in the Polytechnics and Colleges of Technology for 2018/19 Academic Year

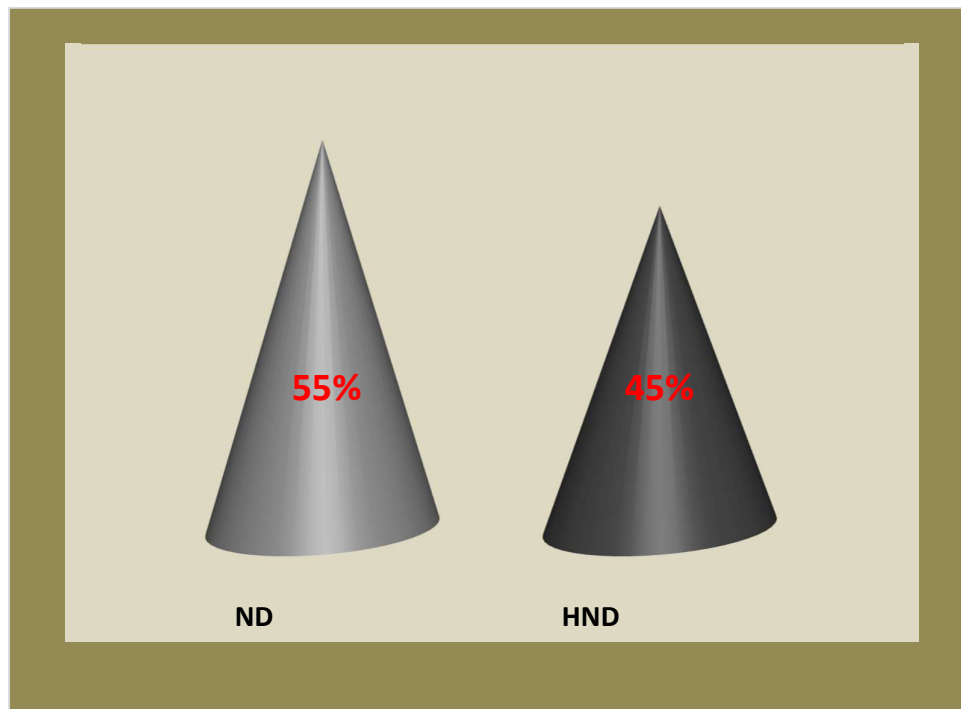

Fig. 1.8 indicate an almost equal proportion of graduate out-turn at ND and HND levels.

Extracts of Statistics of Non - Teaching Staff in the Polytechnics and Colleges of Technology: 2018/19 Academic Year

Figure 1.9: Proportion of Male and Female in the Non – Teaching Staff of Polytechnics and Colleges of Technology for 2018/19 Academic Year

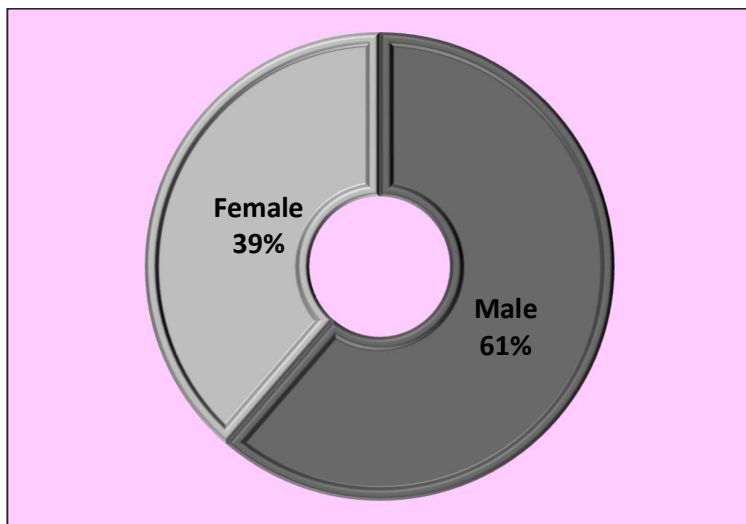

Fig. 1.11 show that female make up two (2) of every five (5) non-teaching staff in the employment of the polytechnics and colleges of technology for the academic year.

CHAPTER TWO

Statistical Digest of Monotechnics

2.0 Introduction

Monotechnic is a generic name referring to tertiary institution offering technical education and training in a single discipline. Monotechnics under NBTE purview offer programmes in one or more areas of study of a single discipline leading to award of National and Higher National Diploma (ND and HND).

Monotechnics are some times construed as a lower counterpart of polytechnics. But, in all ramifications, they are the same as polytechnics – same academic structure, curriculum contents, academic staffing, students' admission and other critical requirements. In other words, they are 'polytechnics that offer similar programmes in a single discipline. For ease of identification and supervision, NBTE has further re-classified them into three sub-categories namely;

- i. Colleges of Agriculture and Related Discipline
- ii. Colleges of Health Sciences
- iii. Specialised Institutions

Their curriculum is designed to expose students to high practical and industrial experiences as in the polytechnics and colleges of technology where they undertake industrial training in two stages, first, after their ND1, referred to as SIWES (for four months), and next after their ND2, referred to as IT (for twelve months).

The study structure is also of two tiers system. On completion of the first tier which consist of the first two (2) levels of one year of study each (ND1 and ND2 or ND3 if part-time), graduands are awarded National Diploma (ND) certificate. On completion of the second tier which is also made up of two (2) levels of one year of study each (HND1 and HND2, or HND3 if part-time), graduands earn Higher National Diploma (HND) certificate. Before enrolling for HND programme however, prospective candidates must complete the mandatory one year industrial attachment (IT) in their field of specialization apart from holding a ND certificate in the area.

Some monotechnics also offer Preliminary National Diploma (Pre-ND), and Post-Higher National Diploma (Post-HND). The former is an introductory class designed to prepare prospective candidates for JAMB examination in preparation for admission into ND programmes. The later is designed to make holders obtain professional registration in their fields of study. The qualification for entry into Post - HND is HND.

As obtained in the polytechnics, the two tiers in the monotechnics are terminal and their holders have designated job entry points and progression path in the labour market. In technical terms, monotechnic ND holders are referred to as Technicians while their HND holders, technologists. Monotechnic HND certificate is likewise equivalent to a first degree (B.Sc. or B.A). In view of grouping monotechnics into three categories, their statistical digest will be presented by their categories, with a section of this chapter devoted to each.

Section One

Statistical Digest of Colleges of Agriculture and Related Disciplines

2.1 Introduction

College of Agriculture and Related Disciplines refer to the category of monotechnic that offer technical education and training in various aspects of agricultural science and related activities, leading to the award of ND and HND. The programmes offered cut across the traditional and the emerging areas of study. The number of agric and related programmes offered by the institutions range from one to numerous.

The curriculum is designed to expose students to high level of practical agricultural education and training and the workings of the agro allied industry.

Section Two

Statistical Digest of Specialised Institutions

2.2 Introduction

Specialised Institutions refer to another sub-group of monotechnic that offer technical education and training in specific discipline (other than agriculture), leading to award of ND and HND. Just as in Colleges of Agriculture, the programmes offered in this institution type cut across the traditional and emerging fields of technical education. Once the specific discipline is chosen, the specialized institution offers programme(s) related to that field only.

As is in the nature of technical education, the curriculum is designed to expose students to high level of practical and work place experiences.

Statistical Extracts of Enrolment in Specialised Institutions: 2018/19

Figure 2.2.1: Proportion of Male and Female Enrolled in the Specialised Institutions for 2018/19 Academic Year

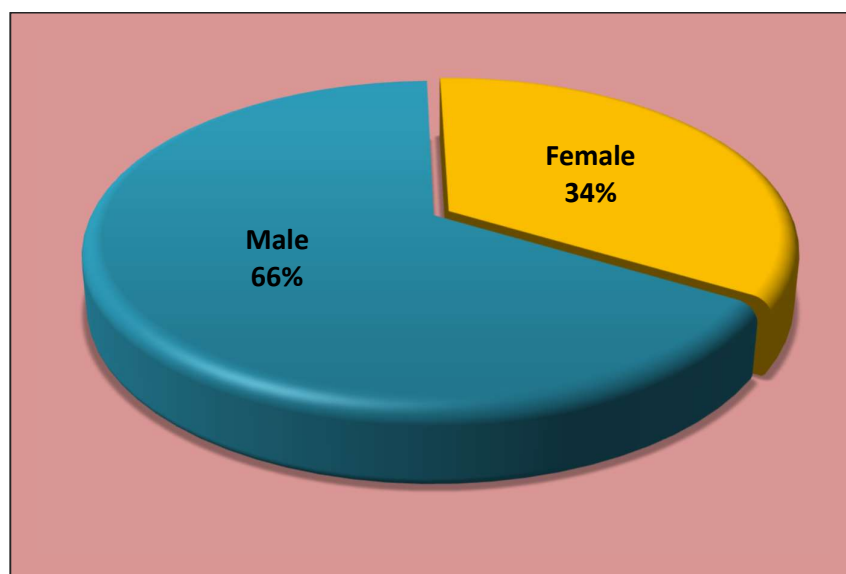

Fig. 2.2.1 displays the relative enrolment proportion by gender in specialized institutions where male outnumber female, twice, with male standing at sixty-six (66) percent.

Figure 2.2.2: Relative Proportion of Federal, State and Private Specialised Institution's Share in the Aggregate Enrolment for 2018/19 Academic Year

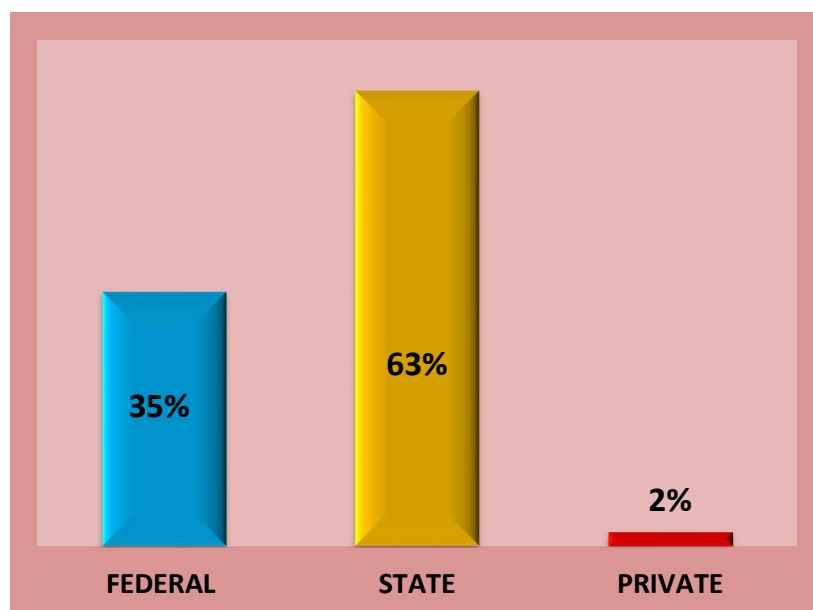

Fig. 2.2.2 reveal that state owned specialized institutions account for not less than six (6) in every ten (10) enrolled for the acadmic year. Federal institutions account for virtually the rest, save for the meagre two (2) percent contributed by private institutions.

Figure 2.2.3: Relative Proportion of Enrolment in the Specialised Institution by Levels of Study for 2018/19 Academic Year

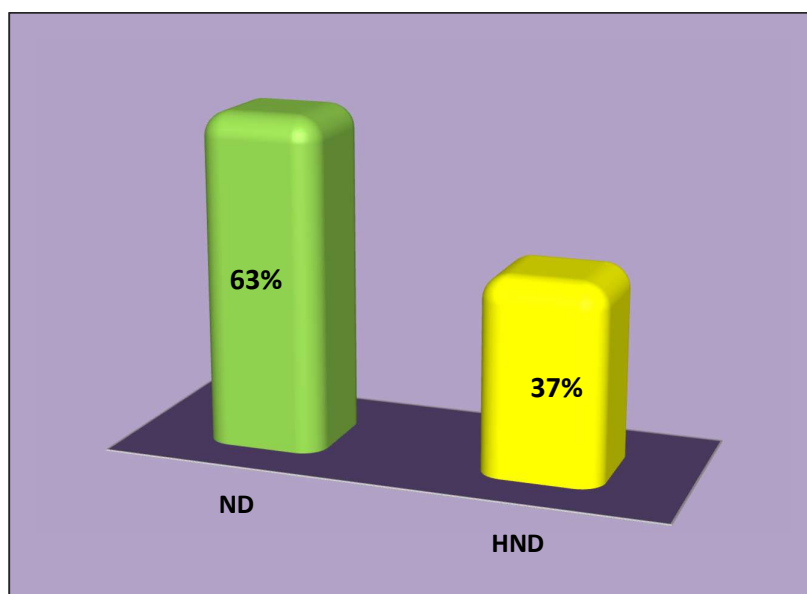

Fig 2.2.3 above shows that ND level of study has the majority of enrolment, standing at sixty-three (63) percent in the academic year.

Section Three:

Statistical Digest of Colleges of Health Sciences

2.3 Introduction

College of Health Sciences is the monotechinic sub-group that offer technical education and training in health related disciplines leading to award of ND, HND and Post-HND certificates. The related programmes spread across a number of traditional and emerging fields of health technology.

As is in the other monotechinic sub-groups, the curriculum is designed to expose students to high level of practical and work place experiences through a number of practical workshop and laboratory hours and extensive industrial training durations.

Statistical Extracts of Enrolment in Colleges of Health Sciences: 2018/19

Figure 2.3.1: Proportion of Male and Female Enrolled in Colleges of Health Sciences for 2018/19 Academic Year

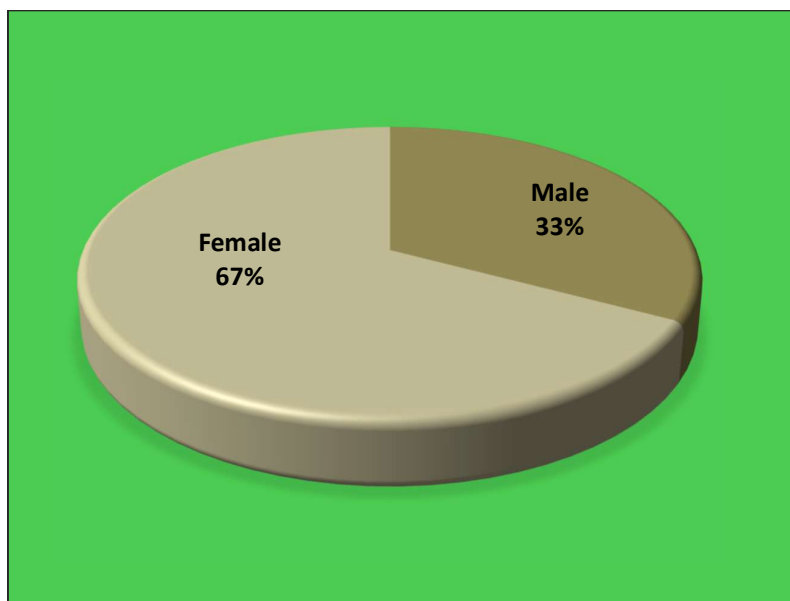

Fig. 2.3.1 indicate a preponderance of female in the enrolment in colleges of health by twice the proportion of male, standing at seventy-two (67) percent of total enrolment.

Figure 2.3.2: Federal, State and Private Colleges of Health Sciences Share in the Aggregate Enrolment for 2018/19 Academic Year

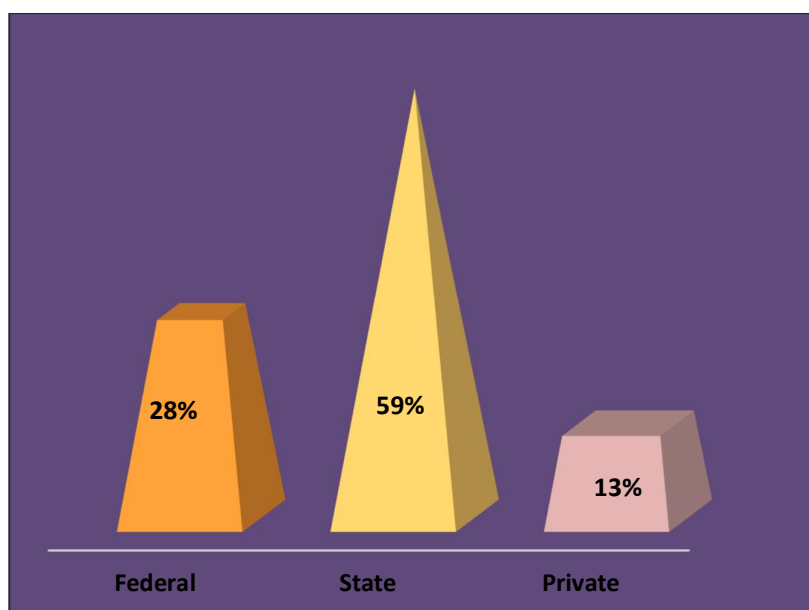

Fig. 2.3.2 reveal that the combine enrolments in federal and private colleges of health, which amount to forty-one (41) percent, is lower than of state colleges alone, which stands at fifty-one (51) percent for the academic year.

Figure 2.3.3: Relative Proportion of Enrolment in Colleges of Health Sciences by Levels of Study for 2018/19 Academic Year

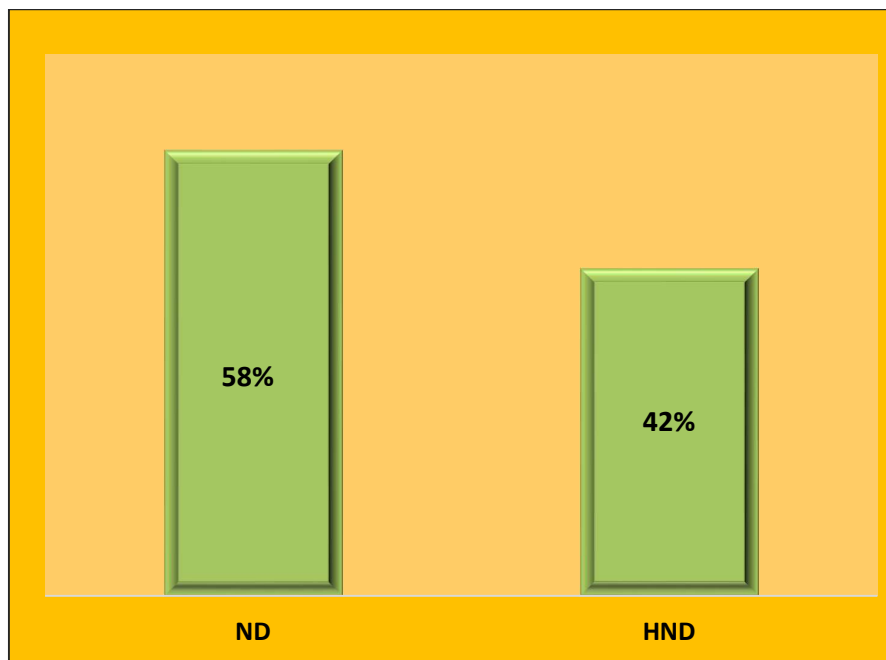

Fig 2.3.3 above shows that for every five (5) enrolled in the colleges of health, approximately three (3) are at ND level while HND account for the rest.

Figure 2.3.4: Proportion of Science & Technology to Non-Science & Technology Based Programmes in Colleges of Health Sciences Enrolment for 2018/19 Academic Year

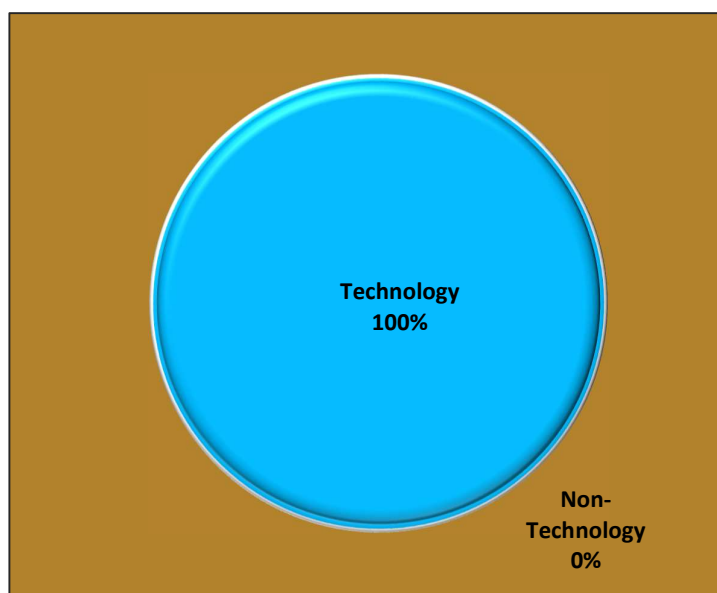

Fig. 2.3.4 indicate that all the programmes offered in the colleges of health sciences for the academic year are clearly of science and technology orientation.

CHAPTER THREE

Statistical Digest of Innovation Enterprise Institutions (IEIs)

3.0 Introduction

Innovation Enterprise Institutions (IEIs) are tertiary institutions that offer vocational and technical education and training of a higher practical contents than the polytechnics and monotechnics. They are largely private sector driven as it emanated from the effort to harness the technical skills obtained from the private informal training institutions by bringing them under the mainstream TVET certification umbrella. They are primarily intended to equip secondary school leavers and even graduates of tertiary institutions or working adults with high practice based vocational and technical skills that can enable them meet the increasing demand for industry-ready technical manpower. In view of this objective, its curriculum focuses more extensively on industry tailored practical training more than in the other mainstream tertiary TVET institutions, including SIWES undertaken after NID1 in an industry with which the institution have entered into MoU.

However, unlike polytechnics and monotechnics, presently, IEIs educational training terminates after two years (NID1 and NID2) levels of study leading to award of National Innovation Diploma (NID) certificate. Also they do not offer Preliminary National Diploma (Pre-ND). Besides this, they run programmes in specialized vocational area just as in specialized institutions. In spite of the two year levels of study, IEI graduates educational career progression does not terminate at this point, they can seek admission into polytechnics and monotechnics to pursue HND in relevant area. TVET training at IEIs level is still at its early stage, it is still developing.

Digest of Vocational Enterprise Institutions (VEIs)

4.0 Introduction

Vocational Enterprise Institutions (VEIs) are private TVET institutions that offer vocational education and training at senior secondary school equivalent levels. Just as it is with the IEs, VEIs were set up to harness the contributions made by private sector informal vocational training institutions to national skills training need. Through standardization of the training structure by NBTE, VEI was brought into the mainstream of national vocational certification system. They provide vocational training for persons at senior secondary school level. Its' curriculum is focused extensively on practical training and industrial experiences.

VEIs run three year modular programmes where each year of study is terminal and have a cogent and flexible structure and content that equip the trainee with practicable working skill, and the possibility to exit at each level. The qualification obtainable at these levels are called National Vocational Certificate (NVC) Part 1, Part 2 and 3 or Final. In essence, VEI is similar to Technical College except for their modular structure.

VEIs admit candidates with a minimum of basic education certificate (JSS) and cover multi-disciplinary vocation that prepare learners for jobs, directly in industries though at lower level. The academic career progression path for NVC holder is to apply to Innovation Enterprise Institutions, Polytechnics or Monotechnics through JAMB.

CHAPTER FIVE

Statistical Digest of Technical Colleges

5.0 Introduction

Technical Colleges are Senior Secondary School (SSS) set up specifically for technical and vocational education and training in the Nigerian educational system. They offer mainly skilled-based subjects referred to as Trades among which are woodwork, metal work, mechanical craft practice, bricklaying and concrete making along with some business or commercial oriented vocations such as type writing, book keeping, store keeping etc.

Technical College is structured to cover the three (3) years Senior Secondary School classes, referred to as NTC 1, NTC 2 and NTC 3 respectively. On successful completion of their study, graduates are awarded National Technical Certificate (NTC) or National Business Certificate (NBC) depending on the trade area specialized in. Advanced National Technical Certificate (ANTC) and Advanced National Business Certificate (ANBC) are also available for candidates who want further certification in his trade of study. The National Business and Technical Education Board (NABTEB) is the agency that examines and awards the certificates.

The entry qualification for NTC/NBC is Junior Secondary School (JSS) certificate and that of ANTC/ANBC is the NTC/NBC. NTC/NBC is equivalent to SSCE 'O' level while ANTC/ANBC is equivalent to GCE 'A' level, and both are approved entry qualifications into Polytechnics, Monotechnics and Universities in Nigeria.

Extracts of Statistics of Teaching Staff in Technical Colleges: 2018/19

Figure 5.4: Proportion of Male and Female in the Teaching Staff of Technical Colleges for 2018/19 Academic Year

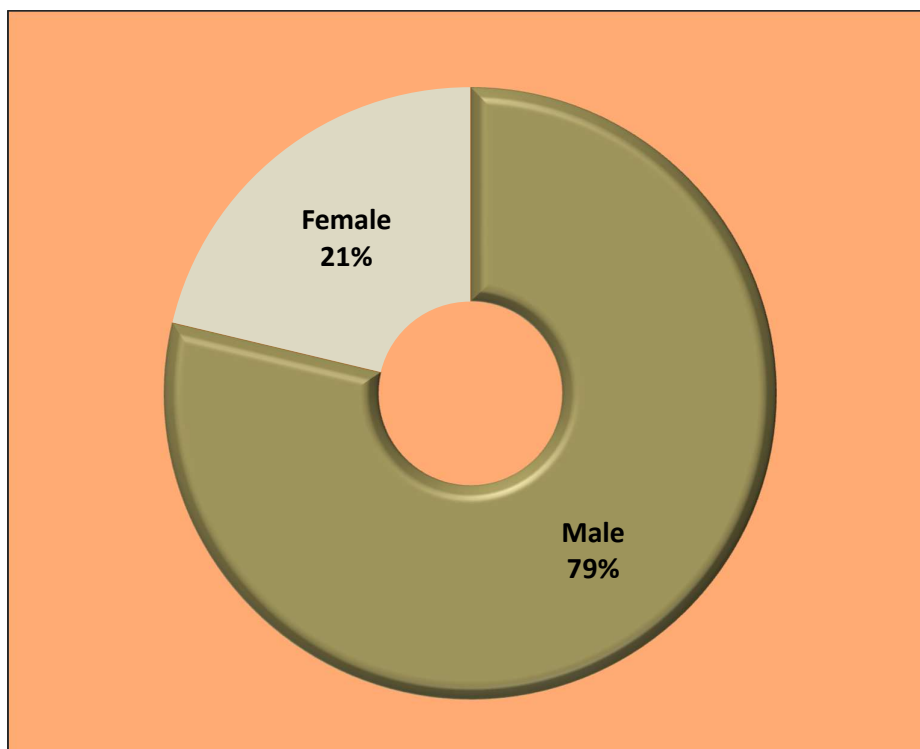

Fig. 5.5 show that female make up only one (1) out of every five (5) of the teaching staff strength in the technical colleges.

Summaries

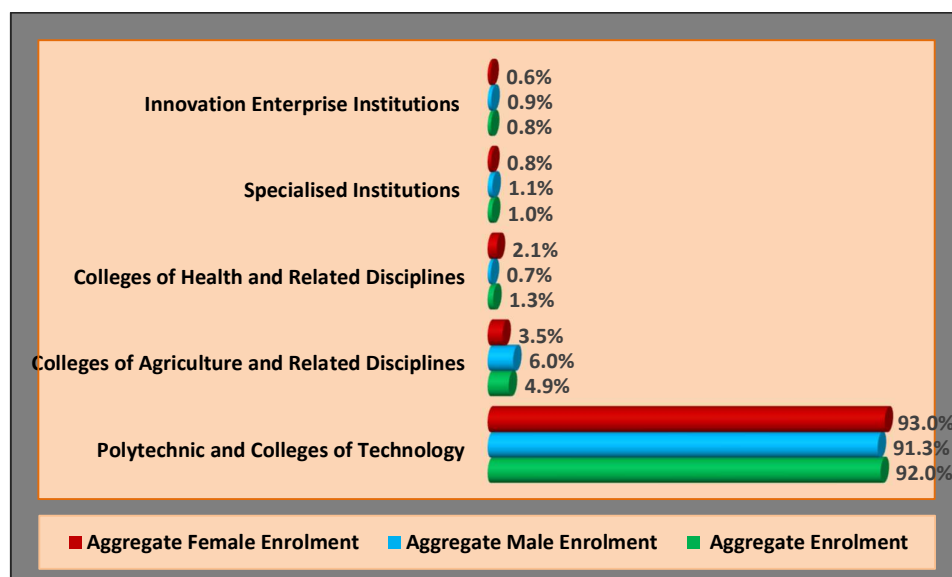

The summaries of key aspects of the baseline data outlined in the foregoing chapters are presented in the following tables and charts for a bird eye view of the statistics. This consist in grouping the institutions by tiers of study namely, secondary and tertiary, aggregating their data and analyzing them by their relative proportions in the aggregates.

Enrolment Summary

In table 6.1 above, the aggregate enrolment in the tertiary TVET institutions under NBTE purview for 2018/19 academic year is three hundred and forty-five thousand, six hundred and sixty-five (345,665). The breakdown shows that male enrolment is two hundred and three thousand, three hundred and thirty-seven (203,337), while female is one hundred and forty-two thousand, three hundred and twenty-eight (142,328). Further to this, the chart in figure 6.1 indicate that;

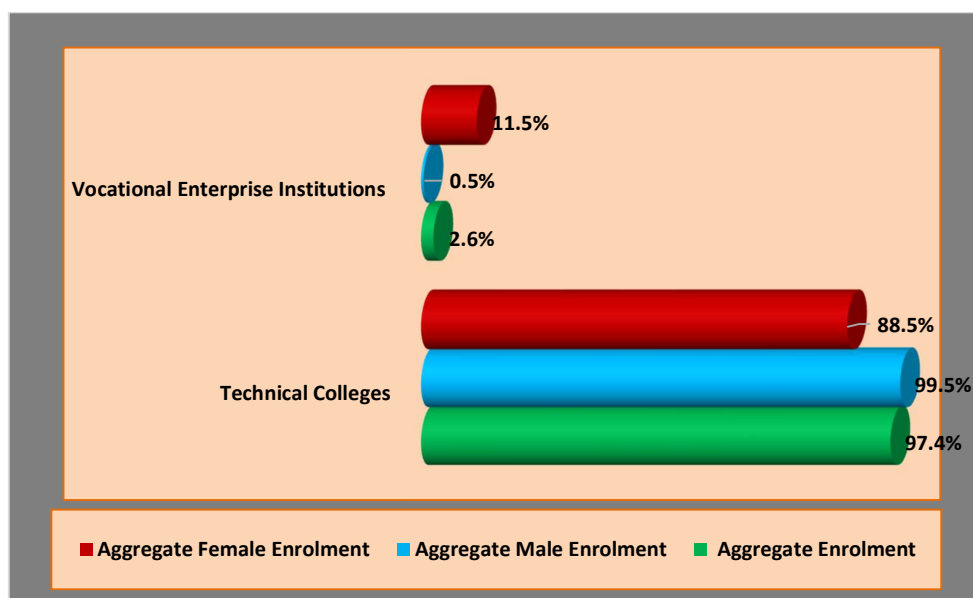

- The polytechnics and colleges of technology enroll ninety-two (92) percent (which is above 9 out of every 10) of the students that are enrolled into the NBTE supervised tertiary TVET institutions. By this, the colleges of agriculture, colleges of health technology, specialized institutions and IEs combine to share the remaining approximately, eight (8) percent

- ii. Of the eight (8) percent of students remaining, colleges of agriculture enroll four point nine (4.9) percent, followed by colleges of health (1.3), while IEs enroll below one percent (0.8%), which is the lowest
- iii. Male students in polytechnics and colleges of technology make up ninety-one point three (91.3) percent (approximately 9 out of every 10) male enrolled for the academic year
- iv. Colleges of agriculture still enroll the highest proportion (6%) of the remaining (8.7%) male, followed by the specialized institution (1.1%) while IEs still enroll the least (0.9)
- v. Female enrolment is also dominated by polytechnics and colleges of technology, at ninety-three (93) percent (over 9 out of every 10 female approximately)
- vi. Colleges of agriculture yet account for the highest proportion (3.5%) of the remaining female students, closely followed by colleges of health technology (2.1), with IEs still enrolling the least proportion (0.6)

In table 6.2, the aggregate enrolment in the secondary school level TVET institutions under NBTE purview for 2018/2019 academic year is forty-nine thousand and eight hundred and nine (49,879) students. The breakdown shows that male enrolment amount to forty thousand, six hundred and ninety (40,690) while female is nine thousand one hundred and eighty-nine (9,189). Further to this, figure 6.2 indicate that;

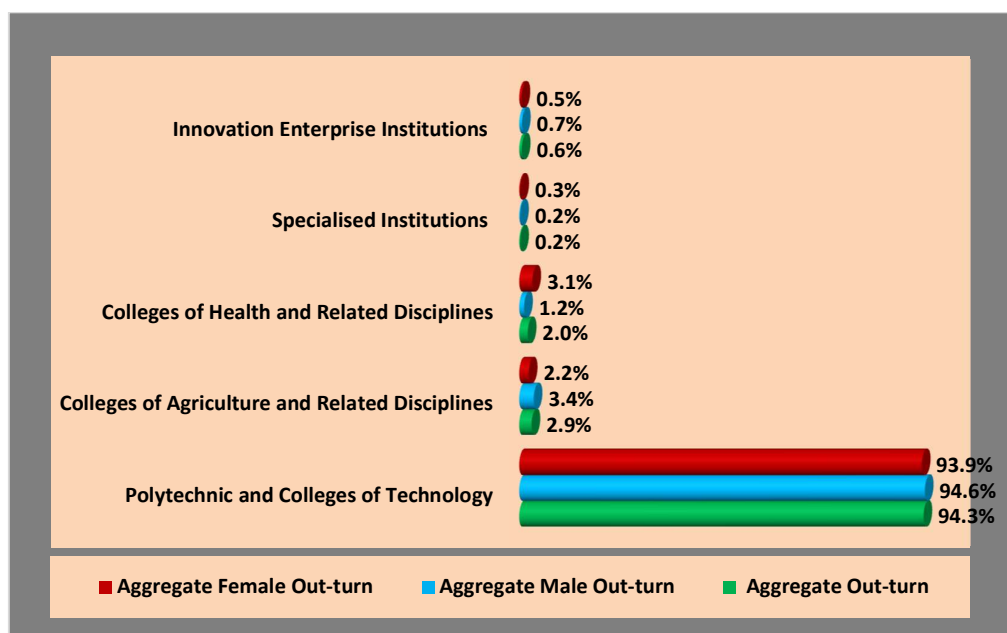

- i. Technical colleges enroll ninety-seven point four (97.4) percent (i.e. 97 out of every hundred 100) students that are enrolled into the NBTE supervised secondary school level TVET institutions
- ii. The VETs account for a negligible proportion amounting to approximately two point six (2.6) percent (about 3 for every hundred 100) students enrolled for the academic year
- iii. The technical colleges account for virtually all the male enrolled into this level of TVET institution, with ninety-nine point five (99.5) percent (i.e. 995 for every 1000 enrolled)
- iv. The VETs enroll the remaining inconsequential zero point five (0.5) percent (i.e 5 in 1000) male
- v. Female enrolment in this level of TVET institutions is also dominated by the technical colleges, standing at eighty-eight point five (88.5) percent (i.e. not less than 88 out of 100) of the aggregate
- vi. VETs have much better proportion in the female aggregate enrolment than the male. It stands at eleven point five (11.5) percent (i.e. approximately 12 out of every 100) enrolled for the academic year

In table 6.3 above, the aggregate number of graduates turned out from the tertiary TVET institutions under NBTE purview for 2018/2019 academic year is one hundred and thirty-five thousand, six hundred and seventy-four (135,674). The break down shows that male enrolment is seventy-five thousand, eight hundred and sixty-five (75,865) and female is fifty-nine thousand, eight hundred and nine (59,809). The chart in figure 6.3 further shows that;

- i. The polytechnics and colleges of technology graduate ninety four point three (94.3) percent (i.e. over 9 out of every 10) students turned out from the NBTE supervised tertiary TVET institutions. Colleges of agriculture, colleges of health, specialized institutions and IELs graduate the remaining five point seven (5.7) percent
- ii. For the five point seven (5.7) percent remaining graduates turned out by the other tertiary institutions, colleges of agriculture account for the highest proportion of two point nine (2.9) percent, followed by colleges of health (2%), while specialized institutions and IELs contribute zero point two (0.2) and zero point six (0.6) percent respectively
- iii. Male graduate out-turn distribution also shows that polytechnics and colleges of technology account dominate with ninety-four point six (94.6) percent (i.e. over 9 in every 10) students graduated for the academic year
- iv. For the five point four (5.4) percent male graduates turned out by the other tertiary institutions, colleges of agriculture account for the highest proportion with three point four (3.4) percent, followed by colleges of health (1.2%). Specialised institutions contribute the least (0.2%)
- v. Polytechnics and colleges of technology by still account for most significant proportion of female graduates turned out, at ninety-three point nine (93.9) percent (i.e. over 9 out of 10) of the aggregate. The rest of the institutions contribute the remaining six point one (6.1) percent
- vi. The remaining (6.1%) female are contributed by colleges of health (3.1%), colleges of agriculture (2.2%), specialised institutions (0.3%) and IELs (0.5%)

Figure 6.4: Aggregate Graduates Out-turn by Gender in the Secondary School Level TVET Institutions for 2018/19 Academic Year

In table 6.4, the aggregate out-turn in the secondary level TVET institutions under NBTE purview for 2018/2019 academic year is eighteen thousand, nine hundred and thirty-five (18,935) students. The breakdown shows male out-turn standing at fourteen thousand, nine hundred and eleven (14,911) and female, four thousand, and twenty-four (4,024). Further analysis as shown in figure 6.4 indicate that;

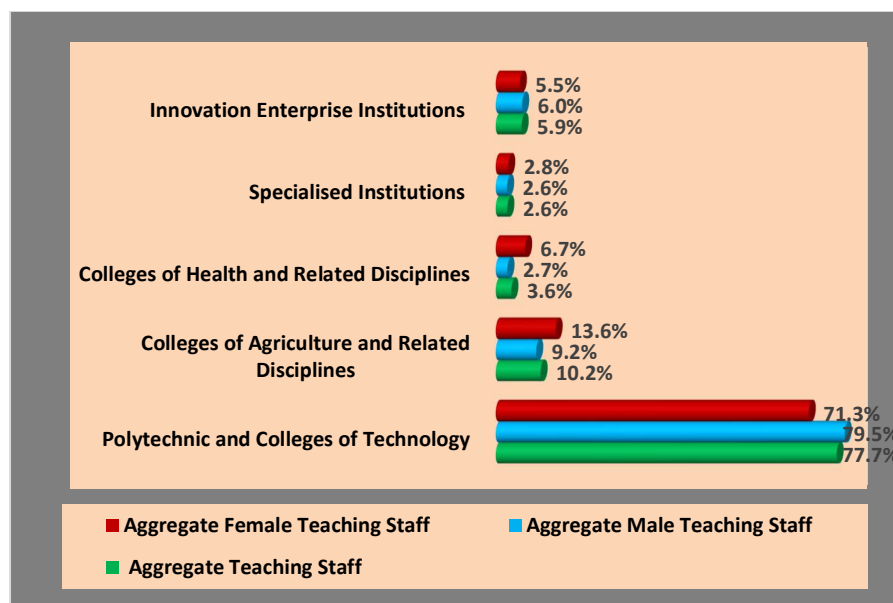

- Technical colleges account for ninety-four point nine (94.9) percent (i.e. approximately 95 out of 100) students that graduates from the NBTE supervised secondary level TVET institutions
- By the immediate above, the VETs account for mere five point one (5.1) percent of student graduates (i.e. 5 in hundred 100) students, for the academic year
- Technical colleges turn out virtually all the males in the secondary level TVET institutions, with ninety-eight point two (98.2) percent (i.e. not less than 98 out of every 100) of the students
- The VETs turn out an inconsequential one point eight (1.8) percent (about 2 in 100) of the male
- Female students graduate turned out in the secondary level TVET institutions is also dominated by the technical colleges, standing at eighty-two point four (82.4) percent (i.e. not less than 82 out of every 100) of the aggregate
- Female students turned out in VETs amount to a relatively higher proportion of the aggregate, standing at seventeen point six (17.6) percent (approximately eighteen (18) out of every one hundred (100) female turned out. This is the highest proportion that VETs contribute to the aggregates in the academic year

Teaching Staff Summary

In table 6.5 above, the aggregate number of teaching staff in the tertiary TVET institutions under NBTE purview for 2018/2019 academic year is twenty-two thousand, six hundred and thirty-four (22,634). The break down shows that male staff is seventeen thousand, five hundred and forty-one (17,541) and the female is five thousand, and ninety-three (5,093). In figure 6.5, further analysis shows that;

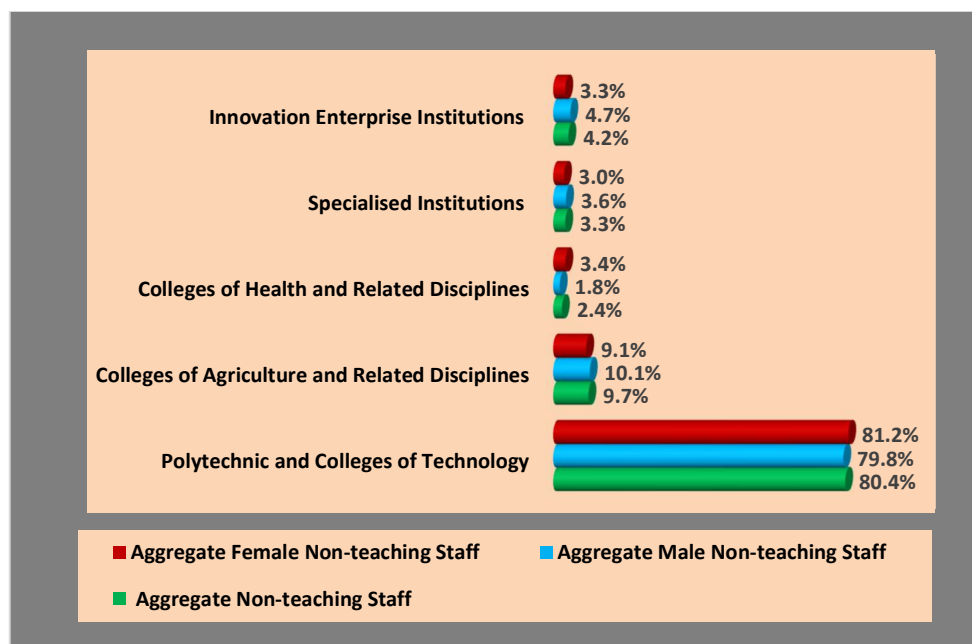

- i. The polytechnics and colleges of technology account for seventy-seven point seven (77.7) percent (i.e. about 8 for every 10) of teaching staff in the NBTE supervised tertiary TVET institutions. Colleges of agriculture, colleges of health technology, specialized institutions and IEs collectively account for the remaining twenty-two point three (22.3) percent (i.e. not less than 2 out of every 10)
- ii. For the remaining twenty-two point three (22.3) percent of teaching staff, colleges of agriculture and IEs command the highest proportions amounting to ten point two (10.2) and five point nine (5.9) percent, respectively. Specialized institutions have the lowest, amounting to two point six (2.6) percent
- iii. With respect to gender participation, polytechnics predominate, amounting to seventy-nine point five (79.5) percent (approximately 8 out of every 10) of male teaching staff in the tertiary level TVET institutions, for the academic year
- iv. Out of the remaining twenty point five (20.5) percent of male teaching staff, colleges of agriculture and IEs account for the highest proportions (9.2%) and six (6%) respectively. Specialized institutions have the least (2.6%)
- v. The polytechnics still account for the highest proportion of female teaching staff in these tertiary institutions with seventy-one point three (71.3) percent (i.e. not less than 7 out of every 10) of the aggregate
- vi. For the remaining twenty-eight point seven (28.7) percent (approximately 3 of 10) of the female teaching staff, colleges of agriculture and colleges of health contribute the highest (13.6%) and (6.7%) respectively. Specialised institutions have the lowest (2.8%)

Non-Teaching Staff Summary

In table 6.6, the aggregate number of non-teaching staff in the tertiary TVET institutions under NBTE purview for 2018/2019 academic year is twenty-seven thousand, five hundred and fifty-eight (27,558). The break down shows that male staff amount to seventeen thousand, and fourteen (17,014) and female is ten thousand, and five hundred and forty-four (10,544). Figure 6.6 further show that;

- i. The polytechnics and colleges of technology account for eighty point four (80.4) percent (i.e. not less than 8 out of every 10) of the non-teaching staff strength in the institutions. Colleges of agriculture, colleges of health, specialized institutions and IEs collectively account for the remaining
- ii. The remaining nineteen point six (19.6) percent of the non-teaching staff strength is contributed by the others, with colleges of agriculture and IEs registering the highest proportions amounting to nine point seven (9.7) and four point two (4.2) percent, respectively. Colleges of health have the lowest at two point eight (2.8) percent
- iii. Analysis by gender participation also indicate that the polytechnics still predominate, accounting for seven-nine point eight (79.8) percent (i.e. 8 out of every 10) of male non-teaching staff, in the tertiary level TVET institutions
- iv. For the remaining twenty point two (20.2) percent male non-teaching staff, colleges of agriculture and IEs contribute the highest proportions of ten point one (10.1) and four point seven (4.7) percent, respectively. Colleges of health account for the least (1.8%)
- v. With respect to female distribution of the non-teaching staff, the polytechnics yet predominate, making up eighty-one point two (81.2) percent (i.e. not less than 8 out of every 10) of the aggregate female
- vi. The remaining eighteen point eight (18.8) percent of female non-teaching staff strength is contributed by colleges of agriculture (9.1%), colleges of health (3.4%), specialized institutions (3%) and IEs (3.3%) respectively
